<input type="checkbox"/> CADAVER DVD — For all levels of surgical experience, dissection of an unembalmed female cadaver offers a unique opportunity to learn and review fundamental surgical anatomy as viewed through a laparoscope. In this videotape, Drs. Andrew I. Brill and Robert M. Rogers, Jr. methodically identify and dissect the elemental vascular and structural anatomy of the female pelvis. Special attention is given to define the anatomical relationships of the major vasculature, ureter, and avascular spaces of the pelvic sidewall, and the supportive musculo-fascial elements of the space of Retzius and pelvic floor.	$15	$30
