Guide to AAGL Member Benefits

Dedicated to Improving Patient Care in Gynecologic Medicine
Welcome

Dear Colleague,

Thank you for your membership in AAGL, the first and largest organization in the world dedicated to minimally invasive gynecology! As minimally invasive surgeons, we set ourselves apart from our non-minimally invasive colleagues through a commitment to mastering the latest, most innovative techniques available to get our patients back to their daily routines as quickly as possible. We are innovators, thinkers, and game changers, creating a world where recovery from surgery is measured in days, not weeks, and where maximizing value for our patients and hospitals is of the utmost importance.

The lifeblood of the mission of AAGL is our members. Members drive change and growth towards meeting the organization’s goal of improving patient care in gynecologic medicine. To help you on your journey of lifelong learning so you can offer the best care for your patients, AAGL continues to work tirelessly to develop educational products and activities for its members.

Your membership in AAGL provides you with a wide range of services that are designed to help you grow as a medical professional. You will learn about each of these membership benefits as you explore this booklet.

Once again, thank you for your membership in AAGL and your continued support of the mission to elevating gynecologic surgery worldwide. If you would like to contact any Board member, please do so at theboard@aagl.org.

AAGL Mission Statement

PURPOSE
Focused on the ultimate goal of improving patient care in gynecologic medicine, AAGL recognizes that surgical gynecologists and other clinicians require lifelong learning. Accordingly, the AAGL provides a variety of educational activities to ensure the learners achieve this goal.

History

AAGL was founded to help organize the research and development that led to the first minimally invasive gynecologic procedures.

Founded in 1971 by a small group of 10 charter members in the US, led by Dr. Jordan M. Phillips.

Dr. Harry Reich performed the first total laparoscopic hysterectomy in 1988 in Pennsylvania.

The Journal of Minimally Invasive Gynecology (JMIG), formerly the JAAGL, was first published in 1993. Today, JMIG is published in 7 annual issues, conducts a monthly journal club via Twitter, and enjoys increasing impact fact year after year.

In 2009, AAGL acquired the SurgeryU platform, housing the largest on-demand, peer-reviewed video library of content related to minimally invasive gynecology. SurgeryU has produced and webcast more than 60 live surgical broadcasts to an audience spanning every continent except Antarctica, offering online CME for selected videos.

Our membership now extends to over 110 countries with over 7,500 members worldwide.
Membership Benefits

Your annual AAGL membership of $325* provides you with valuable benefits worth more than 7x the investment!

How to Get Involved in AAGL

Join a Committee
AAGL's core mission is to promote the use of minimally invasive gynecologic surgery worldwide. With this in mind, we have several standing committees that are focused on a different facet of our overall mission. If you are interested in serving on a committee, please contact us at: sspririson@aagl.org

Committees include:
- Accelerated Technology Program
- Coding
- Essentials in MIG (EMIG)
- General Grants for MIGS Research
- Membership
- PCOR Patient Centered Outcomes Research
- Practice
- Publications
...plus many more

Join a Special Interest Group (SIGS)
Special Interest Groups (SIGS) are focused on specific subspecialties within minimally invasive gynecology. For more information on how you can get connected with other AAGL members with a similar interest please contact us at www.aagl.org

SIGS include:
- Urogynecology
- Robotics
- Oncology
- Endometriosis/Reproductive Surgery
- Pelvic Pain
- Hysteroscopy

Participate in online discussions through Endo Exchange
Join the conversation! Your experience can help a colleague from anywhere in the world – so share your expertise by being an active participant on the EndoExchange. Or post your questions or situations that have you stumped and let the community of experts help you! It’s like your own personal phone-a-friend lifeline, and it’s fueled by you.

Submit an abstract for presentation at the AAGL Global Congress
The AAGL Global Congress provides a platform for our members to share their research and innovations with thousands of colleagues. AAGL accepts abstracts between March 1 and April 30 each year for consideration for presentation at that year’s Annual Global Congress.

Publish in JMIG
We encourage all members to submit their papers for consideration for publication in The Journal of Minimally Invasive Gynecology (JMIG), published 7 times a year, with all articles available online ahead of print. Our editors are committed to swift first-round decisions and publication within 4 months of acceptance. Videos are also accepted.

Make a donation to the Foundation of the AAGL or participate in a fundraising event
Your donations help support a variety of programs, including scholarships, teaching grants, funding research, and more. The Foundation is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. All donations are tax deductible to the full extent of the law. Donate online at www.aagl.org/donate.
The Fellowship in Minimally Invasive Gynecologic Surgery (FMIGS) sponsors 2-year fellowships in advanced gynecologic endoscopy. The FMIGS program was developed to address the concern that most graduating residents in obstetrics and gynecology were not fully trained in modern endoscopic surgery.

The Fellowship offers in-depth experience using state-of-the-art techniques. Educational objectives focus on evidence-based medicine, anatomical principles, instrumentation, operative laparoscopy, operative hysteroscopy, and robotics. The overall goal of the training is for the graduate to serve as an independent specialist and consultant in the surgical management and techniques of minimally invasive gynecology, surpassing competence expected at the end of a categorical residency. We invite graduating gynecologic residents who are considering fellowship programs, to submit an application to the FMIGS program. Equally important is the inclusion of new program sites. If you’re an experienced endoscopic surgeon looking to be a Program Director in a fellowship, we invite you to submit a New Site Application today!

The AAGL Foundation

Established in 1993, the Foundation of the AAGL raises financial support for the development and application of emerging technologies that benefit women’s healthcare. The use of these technologies consistently results in improved diagnostic precision, and surgical safety.

Funds raised by the AAGL and Foundation provide:
- Research grants (3 grants up to $10,000 each)
- Grants for “Excellence in Clinical Research Seminar” (5 grants up to $5,000 each)
- Educational courses and workshops
- Scholarships
- Teaching grants
- Awards for scientific accomplishments

Your contribution will help our continued progress in the field of minimally invasive gynecology. Each contributor will be acknowledged on the AAGL website.

We are grateful to the many generous individuals and corporations who believe in the work of the Foundation and have supported our mission.
